

THE HUDSON RIVER TRIP.

Through passengers by the New York Central will have, during the season, the choice of three routes between New York and Albany; tickets reading over the New York Central will be honored for passage on the railroad, or on the magnificent steamers of the Hudson River Day Line, or the palatial steamers of the People's (Night) Line, as you prefer, affording ample opportunity to view the beauties of the "American Rhine." No other route offers such advantages.

N. B.—East-bound passengers desiring to take the boat should advise conductor before reaching Albany, so as to have ticket exchanged.

PRIVILEGE OF BUFFALO STOP-OFF.

Purchasers of tickets over the New York Central to points west of Buffalo, or vice versa, can secure ten days stop-off in that city. This is obtained by depositing ticket with Joint Agent in that city, at 50 Exchange Street, and on payment of one dollar.

On Tourist Tickets with an open limit (that is having no transit limit) of October 31st, stop-off is granted without deposit or charge.

HOTEL, Etc., ACCOMMODATIONS IN BUFFALO.

The following pages contain a list of hotels, rooming houses and private homes in the city of Buffalo in which accommodations will be provided visitors to the Exposition.

Reliability of List.

This list is compiled from advices furnished by the Information Bureau of the Pan-American Exposition Co. All the places listed have been admitted only after a full inspection by men appointed by the Superintendent of the Bureau, and have the indorsement of the Bureau as entirely reliable and proper ones for furnishing accommodations for gentlemen, ladies or families.

To Arrange Accommodations.

The best way is to arrange for suitable quarters in advance.

Decide whether you will stop in hotel or private home, etc. Select, say, three or four places from the list and open correspondence with them with a view to satisfying yourself as to accommodations you desire and they can furnish. By selecting this number, instead of one place at a time, you will probably hit upon what you wish with less loss of time.

Having satisfied yourself as to a suitable place, decide the time of your visit and arrange to reserve your accommodations in advance.

Meals.

Meals are included in prices named for American plan hotels. Prices quoted for European plan hotels are for rooms only. Meals can be obtained in hotel's cafe or elsewhere, as you desire.

In rooming houses and in private homes where nothing is said in list about meals, prices cover rooms only, but in a good many instances breakfast can be had at from 25 cents to 35 cents extra, either at the place or in the restaurants or other boarding places in the immediate neighborhood.

Reliable Agencies.

In addition to the hotels, etc., there will be found on page following this list, a list of "Reliable Agencies," all of which are vouched for by the above Bureau.

These agencies have been formed for the purpose of assisting visitors in securing suitable quarters, and in the majority of cases, their services are given without charge.

Persons who do not wish to take the time for making arrangements direct can arrange with any of the agencies to attend to the matter for them.

Restaurant in New York Central Depot at Buffalo.

Passengers will find a clean, neat, first class restaurant in the Exchange Street Depot of the New York Central at Buffalo.

Meals at all hours and at reasonable prices.

BAGGAGE.

In going to the Exposition limit your baggage to absolutely necessary articles; the less you have to look after the more satisfactory it will be for you. A couple of suit cases or roomy valises will be best.

Where baggage is checked make a memorandum of the number of check.

Uniformed representatives of the C. W. Miller Transfer Company will be on all New York Central trains approaching Buffalo. It is their duty to arrange for transfer of passengers and baggage to hotel or residence, and which will be done at a reasonable charge. Or on arrival at Buffalo, you can present your baggage checks to the above Transfer Company's agent at their office in our station who will arrange for handling your baggage.
